

Privacy Policy

Dharanet, LLC, the company that owns and runs Grupio, is committed to providing you, our customers, with outstanding products and services while protecting your personal information. Providing the highest quality products and services require us to collect information about various aspects of your event/s such as attendees, sponsors, speakers, exhibit lists, etc. For Speakers, Attendees and Exhibitors we may collect information such as name, title, company, and contact information. This Privacy Policy outlines our procedures and our pledge to constantly protect the private information you have entrusted us with.

Use of Customer Information

We do not sell your customer Information to anyone.

We do not disclose your data / customer Information to any third-parties.

We do not use your data in any way other than for purposes of fulfilling the functionality in our application.

Protection of Information

All of our employees have agreed to comply with our Privacy Policy.

Customer Information We May Disclose or Share

In the course of conducting our business and servicing your needs, we do not disclose your Information to anyone except as permitted or required by law.